Dr. Barber's Diapent.

THIS valuable Medicine is composed principally of Herbs, by whose stimulating and penetrating properties, it is when applied, instantaneously diffused through the whole system, allaying the most intense pain in a few minutes. You have only to try it, when you will be convinced that no preparation ever offered to the public, for the relief of the afflicted, possesses in an equal degree its perfect Anodyne qualities. Its action on all races is prompt, powerful, and effectual, without in the least endangering the system.

It penetrates the flesh to the bone, relaxes the contracted muscular powers, restoring free use to the joints and limbs, which have been rendered by years of affliction almost entirely useless. It is, indeed, hailed by the suffering as the greatest blessing of the age, and no one would ever allow himself to be without this sovereign balm after he had once witnessed its magic influence over disease, and its potency in relieving pain, however severe. The perfect conscientiousness of its unquestionable efficacy, by actual experiment makes me bold in asserting its transcendent virtues. By referring to the numerous certificates in the hands of agents, which were given voluntarily and cheerfully, from a sense of gratitude and justice, by persons of the first respectability, (and their statements admit of no doubt,) you will find it has no equal, in the whole world, for a speedy, certain, and abiding cure of Rheumatism. It will also cure Neuralgia, Pain in the Side and Back, Cramp, Swellings, numbness, Weakness of Joints, Spine, &c. Also, Dyspepsia, and all Nervous Diseases proceeding from the Stomach. Also, Dr. Barber's Corn Remover, a sure remedy for Corns, Bunions, &c. &c. Sold by Dyott & Sons, A. B. & D. Sand, Ring & Perry, Boston; at all dealers of Pure Medicines, and by IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered (as we think) by others, has made arrangements, whereby all applications prepared and conducted by him (THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him, within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors hereby can obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent less than those of others in the profession,) that avail themselves of the experience of twenty years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries, besides having saved a journey to Washington, the usual resort during which, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

E. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, E. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons attending at that office, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more ability, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

The Kansas Troubles.

The real state of the case in Kansas is becoming gradually elucidated as we get reliable accounts by mail from other than pro-slavery sources. The commencement of the present difficulties is given as follows by a correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Lawrence, K. T., Nov 27th:

Last Wednesday, one Mr Dow, formerly from Ohio, discovered that his neighbor, a Mr Coleman, formerly of Pennsylvania, was cutting down trees and preparing to burn a limekiln on the claim belonging to Dow, when he went to him, requesting him to desist, telling him that he had burnt one kiln on his claim, and that he could not burn another. There was a man helping Mr Coleman at the time, by the name of Buckley, a neighbor of Dow's by the name of Branson went along with him as he went up to order Coleman off. After having some pretty sharp words, Coleman and Buckley left and went away, while upon Dow and Branson returned home, they both living in one house. Dow being single and boarding with Branson. Some time the same day, Dow had occasion to go by the house of Coleman to a blacksmith shop on business. Before he went Branson urged him to take some kind of weapon, as it was suspected that a gang would be at Coleman's where a low groggery was kept, but Dow refused to take any, and said he was not afraid of any of them. He went up to the shop and there he found Buckley, who commenced abusing him by words and dared him to step out the door and fight him. Buckley, in the meantime, stepped out and cocked his gun, threatening to shoot him. Dow paid little attention to him, but as soon as he got his business done with the blacksmith, which was getting a piece of iron fixed, he stepped out and started for home.

Some little distance ahead of him he saw Coleman sitting beside the road with a shot-gun in his hand. Dow came up and passed him, when only a few rods distant from him, Coleman raised his gun and taking deliberate aim at Dow snapped it twice. On hearing this Dow turned about to see what it was, when Coleman recapped his gun, raised it to his eye, and shot Dow dead on the spot. Several buckshots entered his breast, killing him at once. This was all done in sight of Coleman's house and the groggery, and happened at 1 o'clock. No one of those gathered about Coleman's house, and there were some eight or ten, went to remove the body or to inform any one of the murder. So the dead body lay by the roadside until 6 o'clock when Branson somehow, or other heard of it and went, and had the body taken care of.

The following night Coleman and Buckley escaped to Missouri. Some say for one purpose, some for another. One rumor is that he has gone to give himself up to the proper authorities. But nothing up to this date has been heard of him.

Yesterday a public meeting was held in the neighborhood when the testimony of several persons was informally taken, which went to show that Coleman willfully and coolly murdered Dow without any other cause than having this difficulty with him about burning the limekiln. Resolutions were passed expressive of the sense of the meeting, and a salute fired over the grave of the lamented Dow.

Coleman and all engaged on his side are rabid Pro Slavery men, and the act of the first time they have outraged public sentiment by their acts. They have driven several Free State men off from their claims near by, fired upon them &c. Dow and his friends are torn free State men generally associated with Mr Dow and all are burning to avenge his death, and have always found him to be a very peaceable and moderate man. This public meeting numbered about eighty men among whom was a part of a military company armed with Sharp's Rifles, who live between Lawrence and the place of the murder, which was Hickory Point, some ten miles south of us.

On the return of the company in the night they discovered a party of horsemen at the town of Blanton coming up in their rear, and in accosting them a voice was heard at Branson's (where a prisoner) and upon further inquiry it was made known that the Deputy Sheriff, who lives in Missouri, had taken dinner and in the evening, after the company had left Hickory Point had arrested Branson on the oaths of three or four Slavery men friends of Coleman, that they were afraid Branson would kill them. Nobody had heard of this, and nobody believed it now. It was got up to help Coleman. The company then told Branson to come with them, when the Sheriff threatened to shoot him if he moved, but Branson got off his mule and joined the company, when the Sheriff left, saying he would go down and get 10,000 men and come up and see what he could do. The Sheriff's writ was issued by a Justice of the Peace by the name of Cameron, once a professed Free Stateman, but who has now accepted a place under the Territorial Laws. The company took the ground that they did not recognize any writ as valid coming from this quarter.

Thus an open resistance to the authority of the whole Legislature has been made, and who will tell the end thereof? Branson came to Lawrence last night, I am informed, but I did not know his whereabouts. Those who issued him I understand to be somebody or ground-squirrels in the pay of this place and Hickory Point. I shall learn that Coleman's family are gone to parts unknown.

J. S. E.

The statement is essentially different from the pro-slavery accounts received by telegraph; but the hardest question that it is the true statement. The Free State men have made no wanton aggression upon their opponents, but have confined themselves to a determined resistance of the authority of the Russian Legislature elected by the Missourians. To prove this, it is only necessary to cite a pro slavery letter in the Louisville Courier, which alleges the origin of the troubles to be the rescue of a prisoner from the hands of a Sheriff and the refusal of the free State men to deliver up the parties concerned to any officer holding by authority of the Legislature. The same letter says:

"The better men on Lawrence say they are willing to give up all concerned in the affair, if the legally authorized persons seek it, otherwise they will resist to desperation."

Thus, it will be recollected, is a pro slavery assertion; and we cite it only as showing that the movements of the free State people are based upon a deep and abiding determination to resist and to refuse to recognize in any manner the authority of the Legislature. And in this determination they are right—for if the body of usurpers be once acknowledged as established as the Legislative Assembly of Kansas, Slavery will be forever fixed upon the Territory and the future State, by means of the laws and edicts. The vote which it has already passed

[Reported for the Whig and Courier.]

The False and the True Gentleman—A Lecture of Rev. Theodore Parker.

The subject of the Lecture was announced as "The false and true character of the Gentleman."

The lecturer defined the gentleman in a philosophic view, as a complete and perfect man. Such a man was no Sir Bernard, with his coat, with customer, relish a cake of mackerel with vinegar nor Sir Robert Newman with all his talent and genius, having the character of theology for thirty-eight years, could find his way from his house to Congress. But in a true gentleman every faculty is developed. All the parts are subordinate to the whole. Not as in Greek statues, where Hercules, whose cunning and strength predominate, but as in those more perfect statues of Jupiter and Apollo, where every faculty is harmoniously developed. Let us allow from the glorious ideal we obtain a true notion of a gentleman. So we have the philosophic view of a gentleman.

The historic view of this. He passed for a gentleman who has the qualities sought after in his time and place. As an illustration—as at Rome, one must belong to the Catholic church, and have money. In England, one must have money, noble descent, and membership of the English Church.

In our own time and place, we have two characters—the false and the true gentleman. I am not responsible for facts, remember. My lecturer, but for his putting them truly. My discrimination has been calculated for the latter. What corrections it may need in your place, you will be able to supply.

Two qualities are necessary for the false gentleman. He must have money. This is to be opposed to a vulgar genteel use. And he must not work with his hands, this is a base object.

It matters not how the money is obtained—whether by defrauding purchasers by stock-holds, by forming bubble banks, by selling rum, it is not asked. Nor does the qualities of intellect, morality affection or religion. He is to have less for himself, and for his wife as a useful piece of furniture—and may speak of brother or sister, as relative of our family.

He must belong to the right party. In a locality he must rob vote the democrat ticket. One instance however, the speaker knew of where democracy was considered equally reliable. His apprehension is, but perhaps without any foundation, that his friends are looking to his election by Administration votes.

It is time that four Whig U. S. Senators, viz Pratt of Maryland, Toombs of Georgia, Jones of Tennessee, and Benjamin of Louisiana, have given in their formal adhesion to the Slave democracy, which has now become a ruling mark than a Southern Slavery conspiracy, with a miserable following in the Northern States, kept up by executive patronage.

The Union gives us a defence of the proposed armed intervention of the President in the affairs of Kansas. If this is the best defence the case really admits of, the President's conduct is wholly without excuse. The Constitution refers to Congress the power to provide and regulate the use of military force in suppressing insurrections. Congress exercised this power in 1795, by enacting that the President might call out the militia to suppress insurrections in any State upon the call of the Legislature thereof, or upon the call of the Executive thereof, if the Legislature happened not to be in session. The Act of 1795 makes no reference to Territories and to extend it to them by construction is the merest assumable, as Congress is upon session and may make proper provision for emergencies. The condition of the Territories is entirely different from that of the States. The Legislatures and Governors of the States being entirely independent of the President, could not be supposed to act in collusion with him. On the other hand, the Governor of a Territory is the President's mere creature, holding at his will. Would it be safe to allow the President to call out the military power of the country, on the mere summons of a Territorial Governor, that is to say, solely on his own motion, and at his own pleasure?

The case of Reeder and Whitfield is exceedingly troublesome to Northern gentlemen, who are forced to follow the lead of the South in order to stand well with the National democratic party, and yet who would like amazingly well to keep in favor with their constituents if they possibly could, consistently with the high allegiance which they owe to the White House, and to the delicious spoils therein and therefrom dispensed. These painstaking and trembling gentlemen will at last be whipped in voting for Whitfield, but they don't talk so now. They blandly suggest that "Whitfield and Reeder should both be sent back." An admirable escape for an embarrassed politician undoubtedly, but unfortunately only offering a temporary relief. The difficulty is, that the government of Kansas has been usurped by an armed legion, and that this illegitimate government, true to the instincts of its violent origin, has enacted a code of election laws violating the laws of Congress, and putting all fair votes out of the question. The people of Kansas will not submit, either to the laws or functionaries of this illegitimate government, and if Reeder and Whitfield are both sent home, they will both be sent back again by two elections of different dates, just as before. The question may be evaded, and postponed for a session but after all, it must be settled in the House, by a decision, one way or the other. If the Shawnee Mission Legislature of Kansas was a legal body, and did not transcend its powers, Whitfield is entitled to his seat. If otherwise, the people were justified in electing Reeder, and he should be admitted to the seat he claims. That such will be the result, I have great confidence.

Yours, R.

MERCANTILE LECTURES.—The second Lecture of the Course, will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Bellows of New York, this evening, at No. 1 Bangor Hall.

A whole family was recently poisoned in New York, by eating diseased mutton. One young lady, a Miss Fox, died from the effects.

A Rochester Editor had the best of reasons for kicking a quack nostrum peddler out of his sanctum. The fellow, with cool impudence desired the editor to try a box of his itch ointment, being an infallible cure, and, if found to answer the description there to certify to its merits in the columns of his paper.

UNEXAMPLED PROFITS.—On Saturday on the appointment of the Senate, the Hon. John P. Hale remarked, "we have made over a dollar a minute, to-day—the session having lasted only seven minutes."

SENATOR WILSON AND THE EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS.—The Washington correspondent of the Courier and Enquirer, writing on the 6th inst. relates the following:

"A suggestive passage occurred in executive session of the Senate yesterday. A large number of nominations were laid upon the table—These nominations having been read, one of the number which excited no interest was confirmed without objection. Mr. Wilson, of Mass. mistook the name for that of one of the late members of Congress, whose vote on the Nebraska bill has been rewarded with an executive appointment. He arose precipitately to protest against precipitation in disposing of these cases, and declared that he intended to oppose them all to the bitter end.

He declares that they held their offices as the price of corruption, and the wages of sin.—They had all betrayed their constituencies upon the promise of the expectation of the money and the offices of the Federal Government.—And now the Senate was called on to pay the price of the contract. Early and late in session and out. He would oppose the consummation of the iniquity. He would on all occasions struggle, though he stood alone, to defend the North against treachery, fraud, and to fix the brand of degradation upon the front of the betrayers. The thirty pieces of silver should not be paid if he could prevent it. As many well be supposed, his vehement and vigorous a demonstration excited a lively sensation, some replies were made that the matter passed off upon the discovery that the person confirmed was not one of those referred to by Gen. Wilson.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE KANSAS DIFFICULTIES.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says:

"I hear it said that the President is quite ready to send out the Federal troops to aid in the subjugation of Kansas to Gov. Shannon and to this Administration; but his cabinet counsellors, but he will want to do so unless officially informed that the local power to suppress the rebellion has been exhausted. In the meantime, the members of the Cabinet chafe at the delay of the troops at Fort Leavenworth, and perhaps Gov. Shannon and Jackson may very accurately measure the degree of his money wisdom of the hour."—Hartford Times.

The St. Louis Democrat records the case of William F. Morgan, in custody, on a charge of forgery, who was arrested for stealing a deed in which some of the Choteau's were interested. Among them it is said, was one of the ladies of that family. Morgan had forged and presented the record of a deed for a piece of property belonging to an old multimillionaire, who died such a short time ago. The woman of the city employed two men to take the life of this wretched man, and they could be no difficulty in effecting their purpose, as he was last seen in company with these men, and after trying to drug him with brandy and wine, hit his head with a stone, and left him for dead.

The withdrawal of Hon. Jeremiah Morrison, of Illinois, from the Speakership contest, leaves Mr. Banks, of Massachusetts, without a competitor. Mr. Morrison, in withdrawing, said that he left no Slave holder to hold his seat. Richardson, Bissell, Harris, and Campbell, of Illinois, from the North, all Democrats, who make it a point never to vote for a Northern man when a Southern man can be had, and Smith, of Virginia, who has come to the conclusion that he is in Alabama. We mention the fact to show what sort of opinions are entertained by those who profess most loudly to abhor Sectionalism.

Every Speaker of the House of Representatives since 1811, with but three exceptions, has been a Southern man and a Slave Holder. And now they ask for more!—Albany Journal.

Three or four times a couple appeared before a clergyman for marriage but the intended was drunk, and the reverend gent refused to tie the knot. On the last occasion he let expression of his surprise that so respectable a looking girl was not ashamed to appear at the alter with a man in such a state. The poor girl broke down in tears and said she could not help it.

"And why pray?"

"Because, sir, he won't come when he is sober."

MARRIAGE IN THE WHOLESALE.—On the 1st inst. in Hartford, ceremony took place at the house of Jesse Chipman, Esq., of Wetherford, Michigan. His four sons of ages between 20 and 30, and living in different parts of the State, made their appearance on the paternal mansion with a lady accompanied, and forthwith invited by a clergyman of the neighborhood, and found the whole quartette in the bonds of matrimony, beginning at the eldest and leaving off at the last of ages. After all was finished with one of brides at home, the boys and girls started off on their wedding tour.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills will cure any disease of the skin, however long standing. William Frederick Anderson, of York, in South Carolina, suffered for many years from a disease of the skin, which defied the skill of the most eminent physicians. Every remedy was tried in vain, and he was finally induced to try Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which soon produced a favorable change, and by a steady perseverance with those remedies for a few months completely cured him. The famous Ointment will cure ulcers and all wounds of twenty years standing.

PRESCOTT'S New Work, devoted to DORE—

MASON BROTHERS, NEW YORK, HAVE JUST PUBLISHED

The Letters of Madame de Sevigne

To her Daughter and Friends. Elegantly printed on tinted paper, with a fine portrait on steel, and other illustrations. Edited by Mrs. Hale. 1 vol. 12mo. Price $1 50.

From the New York Tribune, speaking of the following work, which by-the-by is one of the most fascinating of the whole letter writing race: "And if Madame de Sevigne's letters are not the most immediately interesting to the general reader, they are perhaps the most instructive to the student of character and manners. Her letters do not profess to be histories, but they are the best of histories, for they are the unconscious revelations of the writer herself, and of the persons and events of the time. Mrs. Hale has done well to make a selection from the whole mass of letters, and has executed her task with judgment and taste. The present volume contains a sufficient number to give a very good idea of the whole, and will be found very entertaining."

The New York Evangelist, speaking of the letters, says: "Every such collection of French letters will be welcomed by the lovers of that style of epistolary writing, and Madame de Sevigne is the queen of the whole letter writing race. And if Boston Transcript says: "She is the most eminent place particularly. She writes in a style of ease and elegance, and with a vivacity of description and a delicacy of sentiment that render her letters delightful reading. She is the creature of her own sex, and her letters are written in a manner which is not to be surpassed by those who profess most loudly to abhor Sectionalism."

The Mason Brothers have also published a new edition of Madame De Sevigne's Letters, edited by Mrs. Hale, forming a handsome volume of 400 pages, which will be found a most delightful companion for the fireside and the parlor table. The letters are full of the most charming gossip, and the reader will be interested in the doings of the court of Louis XIV, as described by the graceful pen of Madame De Sevigne. The publishers have done well to make this collection of her letters, and have executed their task with judgment and taste. The present volume contains a sufficient number to give a very good idea of the whole, and will be found very entertaining."

Washington Matters.

WASHINGTON, 12th.

During the protracted struggle in the House, for Speaker, not the least sign of ill temper has yet been manifested. On the contrary the best good humor has characterized the proceedings.

Conferences were held to-night, among the various members, but none in the remotest degree, can foretell the events of to-morrow. Some are almost in despair of effecting an organization.

The friends of Mr. Richardson have resolved to stand by him. Norris it probable that by dropping both, they could concentrate a larger number of votes than any other democrat. The anti-Nebraska and Know Nothing platform brings but to confession. It is understood that Mr. Thurlington would again offer his resolution for an election by a plurality vote, but is not probable it will be adopted.

Mr Bagley of Va., a member of the House of Representatives is on the eve of starting to Havana, for the benefit of his health.

As the government has sent instructions to Minister Wheeler not to recognize the new Nicaragua Government, but which could not have been received by him before the 20th, Parker & French, it is reasonable to suppose, will not be received as its accredited Minister.

Various Matters.

NEW YORK, 12th.

In the Board of Aldermen, last evening, after spending a date, $ notice was passed, directing the removal of the ashes, and other appendages of Catholic worship, from the almshouse on Randall's Island.

The steamship Arabia sailed for Liverpool, at noon to-day, with 81 passengers and $100,000 in specie.

BOSTON, Dec. 12.

A letter in the St. Louis Democrat, dated Leavenworth, 1st inst., says that McCrea had escaped from prison, and informed the territorial Marshal that he would appear at Lecompton on the day of trial. The Lawrence people say that Sheriff Jones never produced any warrant for the arrest of prisoners.

J. W. Gilman, of Jonesboro, while at work in a saw mill in that place, on Monday last, in attempting to kick a dog from the end of a log, accidentally had his foot come in contact with the saw, when at one descent, it was completely severed from his leg, in close proximity to the ancle. Dr. Murray, of this place, dressed the wound, and we hear that the unfortunate man is now comfortable.—Machias Union.

ALLEGED ROBBERY.—A man by the name of Allen, of Newburyport, says he was robbed on Monday night of $70, by Thomas Kehoe, who keeps a small shop at the west of Chesnut St., near the York & Cumberland Depot. Allen says he came from Saco on foot to take the cars for Augusta, but did not arrive in season to do so, it being 5 min. 11 o'clock P. M. He then went into Kehoe's shop and called for some refreshments, and obtained a cup of coffee and something to eat. After drinking the coffee he felt dizzy, and started to go out of the shop, but Kehoe stopped him; whereupon a fight ensued, and Allen was forced to make his escape by breaking the glass and jumping through the window, after which he went to the Preble office and informed Deputy Marshal Ring of the affair. Ring went to the shop of Kehoe and found him arranging his furniture, &c., which had been thrown into a confused state by the fight.

Kehoe, on seeing Ring so early in the morning, tried to make his escape by taking leg bail; but this proved a failure, for Ring soon overhauled him and committed him to the watch-house. Kehoe was searched by the officers in the watch house, and a number of bills on banks in New Jersey and Rockland were found secreted in various portions of his clothing. He was examined before the Police Court and for want of sureties in the sum of $500 was committed to jail.—Portland Argus.

NARROW ESCAPE.—We understand that a young lady and gentleman, belonging to a party who went to the Cape Light, on Monday to see the ocean after the storm, were washed off the rocks, and were in imminent danger of drowning. They were finally rescued—being dragged out by their clothing.—State of Maine.

THE FIRE IN LEWISTON, on Saturday night, so much injured the Catholic church as to render it unfit for repairing. It was said to be the work of an incendiary. The blaze of the flames was cut in several places, while they were playing upon the fire.—Portland Advertiser.

Thrice-Weekly Kennebec Journal.

During the approaching session of the Legislature, the undersigned will continue the publication of the THRICE-WEEKLY JOURNAL, being Volume XIII of the Series.

The result of the recent election, and the political character of the majority of the members chosen to the Legislature, will give to the proceedings of the session a weighty, intrinsic interest. Accordingly, he has every intention to the dominant parties, in which, policy of the system of Liquor Prohibition will be brought under discussion, with the view of repealing that pernicious statute, and enacting in its stead a law more in accordance with their views of practical wisdom. That this effort will give rise to a prolonged discussion, interesting to every citizen, he especially so to every friend of Temperance, no one can doubt. For this reason we shall spare no pains or expense in furnishing to our patrons a full and accurate report of all that may be said and done in the Legislature. To do this effectually upon a heavy session, and a liberal subscription list is all that will save us from pecuniary loss.

In view of these facts, we look with confidence to our Republican friends throughout the State to send us a full list of subscribers. Especially do we look for such from the Republican members of the Legislature that persons other than the editor, without whom a representative is not complete.

The number of lines of railroad which now traverse the State in all directions, will enable a very large proportion of our subscribers to receive them papers a few hours after publication. The fact renders a subscription to the Thrice Weekly more desirable and satisfactory than in former years.

The Thrice-Weekly will be published on Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, containing all the Telegraphic News and the Latest Intelligence up to the hour of publication. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

The price will be ONE DOLLAR for the session, as usual. In advance.

It is desirable that the names of subscribers, accompanied with the money, may be forwarded at or before the commencement of the session.
